God Bless America

God bless America,
Land that I love,
Stand beside her and guide her
Thru the night with a light from above;
From the mountains, to the prairies,
To the oceans white with foam,
God bless America,
My home sweet home.

Dedication

TO THE STUDENT COUNCIL

A living symbol of the ideals for which our country is fighting and step forward in the strengthening of student rights and democratic principles.

COUNCIL:
R. to L.—Chuck Kiser, Susan Grimsley, Barbara Johnson, Marjory Hall, Maxine Dillon, Barr Peterson.

ADVISORS:
L. to R.—Mr. Evans, Miss Forster Mr. Kee.

Student Council

The introductory year of the first Mason City High School Student Council was high-lighted by the origination of a Mohawk Homecoming Day and by the adoption of a standard ring and crest.

Good luck to the Student Council and in successive years may it maintain and improve its 1942 record.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH

"Resolved that every able bodied male citizen of the United States should be required to serve one year's full time military training before attaining the present draft age and that this be established as a permanent policy."

"FASHION"

The Senior class did itself proud on March 24, with its presentation of the 19th century melodrama, "Fashion", telling of the trials and tribulations of the would-be fashionable Tiffany family.

POET BUNTHORNE AND HIS MAIDENS

"Patience"

Gilbert and Sullivan's well known operetta, "Patience", was successfully presented by the vocal department under the combined forces of Miss Ellen M. Smith and Miss Myrtle Oulman. Hats off in a victory salute to the corps of vocal students who made this performance possible.

The M. C. H. S. band and orchestra members this year enjoyed the rarest privilege ever presented to our music department when each group was requested to present varied selections on the N. B. C. Coast to Coast hook-up Januray 25.

After many patient but tiring weeks of practice under the splendid direction of Carleton L. Stewart and Marjorie E. Smith, the two distinct groups presented a thrilling performance enjoyed not only by the surrounding vicinity but by the entire nation.

In accordance with this program the two groups continued to give concerts at quite frequent intervals for the benefit of the whole community.

Therefore, we point with pride to another four-star year for our top-ranking band and orchestra department.

Girls Gym Classes

One-two, one-two, is a familiar noise heard coming from girls' gym classes as the girls in M.C.H.S. also seem to realize the need for national preparedness of which physical education is one of the key words. Under the capable guidance of Miss Odella McGowan most of the high school girls take regularly scheduled gym classes which hold for them a three-fold purpose—as a means of becoming better adapted for strenuous exercise, as a means of becoming better acquainted with some of our sports, and lastly as a means of enjoyment to themselves.

'TIL THE VICTORY IS WON

When the football season rolled around in autumn, it found the Mohawk footballers already hard at work under Coach "Judge" Grimsley, in his first season as high school mentor. Although the team won but two games, it was a scoring threat from any place on the field, with Al Di Marco's brilliant passing and the running of Bud Burgess and Jim Sears often gaining twenty or thirty yards. Mainstays in the forward wall of the machine were Chuck Kiser, Morris Macer, Melvin Rutt, and Jim Miller.

The "T" formation, introduced this year, was extremely intriguing from the fans' point of view; the mystery of the season was what happened to the ball between the time quarterback Di Marco got it and the time it was found someplace downfield in the hands of one of the backfield men—Another one of life's little mysteries.

First Row—B. Cawley, L. Klein, B. Dutcher,.A. Di Marco, J. Brown, J. Holmen, C. Newman

Many new faces were on the squad when the doors opened on the 1941-42 basketball season.

With only Al Di Marco and Jay Brown returning as seasoned veterans, Coaches Grimsley and Suter set about to find three other starters. They found their trio in John Holmen, Lloyd Klein, and Bob Dutcher, all juniors. Capable reserves were Bill Cawley, Guss Pappas, Dick Mettler, and Collin Newman.

Hot one night and cold the next seems to sum up the season's fortunes of the Mohawk basketeers.

Although Brown and Di Marco will be greatly missed next year, the squad will have plenty of quality as well as quantity in the up-and-coming sophomore material.

Thumbnail Sketches

A cool player and perhaps the best ball-handler on the squad was Jay Brown, who played both guard and forward. This was Jay's last year as a Mohawk, after four years of "do or die" for M. C. H. S.

Al DiMarco, a star at three sports, turned in excellent performances all season from his forward position. Quick and tricky, "Fonsie" led his teammates in scoring during the season. His deadly accuracy often pulled the team out of a tight spot.

The "find" of the year was "Long" John Holmen, the 6 ft.-2 in. center. John developed a one-hand push shot from his post position that was comparable to the days when Don Pickell poured 'em through.

One of the most consistent players on the team was Bob Dutcher, the other forward. Though not a high scorer, "Dutch" was a player who kept the other team's score down, being a regular t ger on defense.

A junior of whom much is expected next year is Lloyd Klein, who manned a guard position. Though slightly erratic at times, "Killer" was a fine dribbler and one of the best sports on the team; he offered his hand to many a fallen opponent stretched out on the floor.

Track

Under Coach Bill Moore, the track program in M. C. H. S gained prominence, with over forty boys taking regular workouts. Many returning veterans plus enthusiastic and plentiful sophomore talent gave a new spirit to the cinder sport, and as a result left many favorable impressions as to their ability. Greater strength was also shown in the field events.

Mohawk teams entered the Iowa State Teachers and Estherville relays, the Big Seven Conference meet, and numerous dual meets.

Also in the field of athletics was the new gym program for boys, introduced in mid-year as compulsory physical training. Every day some 400 boys donned gym suits and took exercises designed to build up back, chest, and arm muscles as an aid to the national defense program.

SENIORS—BELIEVE IT OR NOT

SEPTEMBER

9—"All hands on deck" for opening day. We love our teachers.
18—No School
20—Hurrah for democracy! First Student Council meeting today.
30—Hobo Hop—Hoboes really in jive.

OCTOBER

23—Cast for "Patience" selected. Donnis Klempnauer, the milkmaid.
24—Team and marching band go to Waterloo. Wish we could kick or march.
27—Student Council gives first assembly. Who got Marybelle's goat?
30—Downcast faces—chemistry test. Need we say more?
31—Homecoming!! No parade, no football victory, but plenty of rain.

NOVEMBER

3—Tibet is some place. Isn't it, Porter?
5—Earl Ferleman brings a treat to economics class —even Mr. Snyder chewed with us.
6—Mr. Boyce says more people die in bed than any place else.
7—Vacation. Teachers and pupils on the loose.
10—Thanks, Mr. Butler, for reminding us about National Defense Week and Education Week.
11—Mr. Wells helps us appreciate Armistice Day.
12—Dr. Spencer Hatch gives a talk and shows pictures of India. Time? 35 minutes.
13—Charles Wells draws cartoons and our attention.
14—Lil' Abner and Daisy Mae had quite a chase at the assembly. Our future motto: "An assembly a day keeps school work away."
18—Football team had banquet tonight. Initiation is Monday—poor "M MEN."
19—Assembly—main characters of "Patience" give us a sneak preview.
21—Three cheers for Donnis and all the others in the cast of "Patience" who really gave a four star performance.
25—Turkey Hop. No corsages, boys, buy defense stamps instead.
26—So long, "stoodents", I'll be back in four days (if I don't eat too much turkey.)

DECEMBER

1—Happy day! school is here again. Did anyone get above 42% in Miss Graves' test today? The freaks!!
2—Report cards—well, I can dream, can't I?
3—Dixie Willson says there are many opportunities in Hollywood. Gable, here I come!

BEHIND THE SCENES

PINK SLIPS

4—Alarm clocks, short skirts, and million dollar legs reign in the halls today—initiation.
9—For once at least ten people passed a physics test. Mr. Boyce, you're slipping.
10—98% in a Hamlet test. Who was cheating?
15—"Joint costs are not expenses of night clubs", quotes Mr. Snyder.
16—Boys who joined the Navy left today. I wonder if they will all find a woman in every port.
18—The yearly Christmas pageant gives us all a thrill and is as full of religious spirit as any church service.
19—School closes at 2:30. Merry Christmas!

JANUARY

8—The chilly days of 25 below have hit dear old M. C. H. S. Gosh, these flannels itch!
13—Mr. Eric Grimwade talks "Turkey". These handsome correspondents!!!

WILBUR'S IN THE NAVY NOW.

6—Happy birthday, Miss Smith! The chorus gave Miss Ellen Smith a right nice party and gift.

9—Tut, tut, late again. You were warned to set your alarms to "war" time!

11—"You Can't Take It With You" looks like the Junior College has made another hit performance.

12—Any connection between Mr. Schneider and Miss Oulman was purely coincidental until today.

13—Our king and queen of hearts are Norma Haaheim and Dick Bruns. We were hoping Mr. Schneider and Miss Oulman would show up.

16—One of them there classy "fun-nights" was held at the Y.W.

17—What a game, what a game. Des Moines until now was undefeated.

19—The March of Dimes—Dick Mettler got rid of his "Advances" in a hurry. (Didn't he girls?)

21—Half-year exams today and everyone is chewing off one nail during the process.

22—Ah me! Only 334 days 'til Christmas.

25—Band, orchestra, and chorus on a coast to coast hook-up! Mr. Stewart and the Misses Smith are mighty proud.

26—Buy your Masonians now or else—no Masonians

29—Which will be? Indian or arrow head crest? Only time (and the jewelers) will tell.

FEBRUARY

3—Mr. Charles Hurrey, the last of our international speakers, explained how students have strikes in South America. Hold me back!

ADVANCE SALE OF
THE ADVANCE

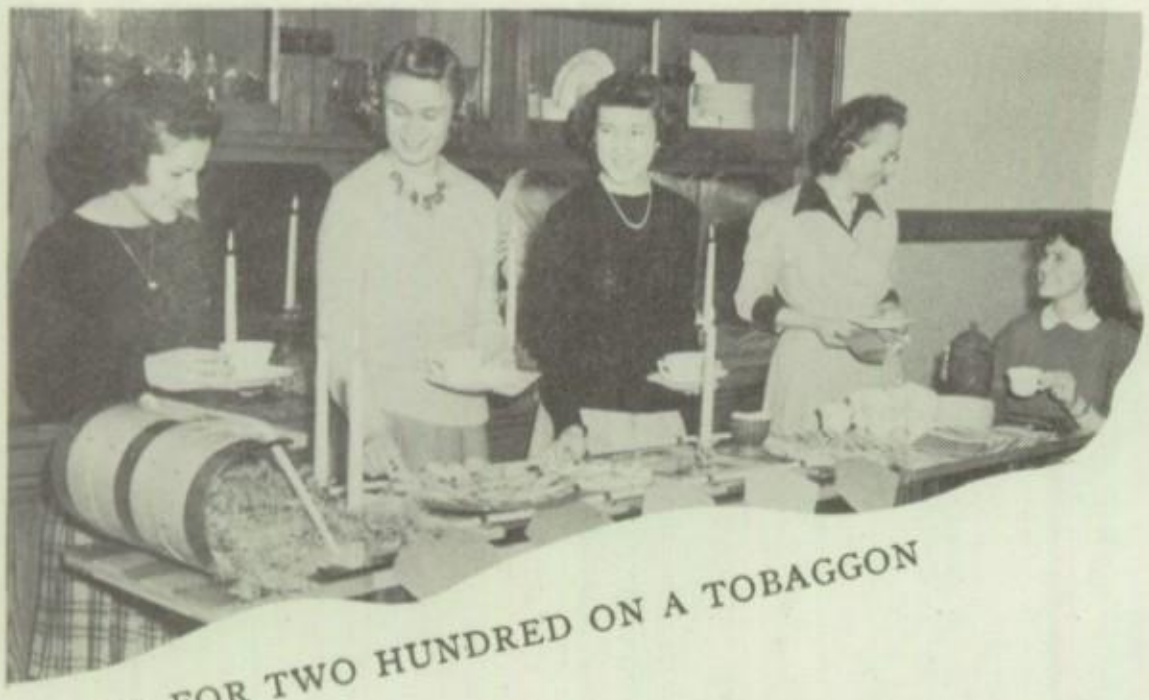
VITAL TO DEFENSE

16—Camera Week. All camera fiends are urged to bring cameras this week. Tryouts for senior play.

17—Don't tell, but Mr. Snyder got a piece of Eleanor McLaughlin's birthday cake.

18—Quiz kids of M. C. H. S. whipped the Kiwanians (by the flip of a coin) and are now in the finals.

20—"Now watch the birdie, children," says Mr. Free as all the silly sophs and jolly juniors sat for their class pictures.



TEA FOR TWO HUNDRED ON A TOBAGGON

24—The basketball team leaves for Ames. How many girls flirt with those guys? (Besides me.)

27—Mrs. Duvall, introduced by Barr Peterson, addressed the student body this morning. She is here for a three day joint conference of Hi-Tri and Hi-Y members.

March

2—Students of Mr. Snyder's five classes have joined forces to send him a subscription to "Fortune" magazine. We hope he will be well soon.

4—Chem. lab. gave off its usual (?) odors.

5—The vital question today is: "What seven senior boys and girls will be chosen as outstanding?

6—Mr. Boyce has gone to Des Moines. Hallelujah, a study hall!

9—Spring is here. A young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love. (I wish they would turn in my direction.)

10—Charles Kiser stayed up all night gazing at his graduation picture! (Conceited, isn't he?)

11—Knitting reaches an all time high. Gail Gustafson sets a trap for a mouse, who eats all her candy bars.

12—That shriek you heard in the hall this morning was Gail. She caught her mouse.

13—Unlucky Friday. I would walk under that ladder!

16—Miss Oulman and Mr. Schneider are still engaged.

19—These teachers' conventions ease my mind and school work.

24—Senior stars really showed their stuff in "Fashion, or Life in New York". What a performance!

DICK and NORMA—KING and QUEEN of HEARTS

RUGCUTTERS RESTING

APRIL

1—Guess what! No assignments. April fool!!

3—Farewell to the homeland! School's out for Spring vacation.

17—Stag dance. Orchestra and loads of fun.

18—Big noise tonight—what? —Hi-Tri Annual Carnival.

24—The Spring Frolic really brought them out.

MAY

1—Junior play (we hope)

2—Baseball team still going strong

4—The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra la! So what?

5—Juniors starting to grrrrr at seniors—tug time draws near.

7—Phyllis and Don are still going steady. Odd, isn't it?

All kinds of people make a world
And in this little school
We pretty nigh can qualify
Ourselves within the rule.

Some of us have learned to cook
Others the artist's touch
But one thing sure for all of us
Our knowledge gained is much.

This learning wasn't our soul desire
But to enjoy ourselves as well
And drama, sports, debate, and more
Completed our year just swell.

Now in this book we hope you'll find
Memories you'll treasure dear
Of all these things combined in one
That made up our school year.

COLLEGIATES

The Collegiate Club provides relaxation for the financial tycoons (sometimes calles typhoons) of Junior College, in the atmosphere of exclusiveness almost to the point of exclusion—meetings are attended faithfully by almost a twentieth of the official membership. The customary intellectual stimulation is of such a practical type (especially the jokes) that little note of passing time is ever taken, not even the minutes.

From the tea-off to the eighteenth time in the hole, the live Y-ers have been engaged in a series of social and financial activities ranging from hemming baby lingerie and revamping the inferior decorating of the girls' lounge to the Style Show. All the year's projects were originated and adopted in the routine, bi-monthly business meetings, which the members habitually attend dressed formally in the school uniform—a warped sweater or sweatshirt, calf-length slacks, white saddles straight from the ashcan, and a coiffure-to-be veiled by a bandana.

No one has to be a Fontanne or a Barrymore to be eligible for Wig and Masque. It is open to any collegian who who wants to learn something about plays from original skits like "Lil' Abner's Dog Patch Doins" to great Broadway hits such as "You Can't Take It With You."

Monday evenings - 7:30 - J.C. study hall is the entrance cue for Wig and Masque, when all members have the opportunity to direct, to criticize, to act, or to be a part of a First Nighter audience at a one-act production.

Gloria Mundi

Crowning achievement of every Wig and Masquer is to make Delta Psi Omega, honorary dramatic society, of which Ruth Aucker is director, Amy Lou Haight, sub-director, and Ralph Senensky, secretary-treasurer.

Highlight of the Wig and Masque year was the production of Kaufman and Hart's daffy comedy, "You Can't Take It With You", which ranks as one of the greatest of M. C. J. C. stage successes.

Two scenes to be remembered are those at right: Grandpa Vanderhof saying grace, and Rheba and Donald.

Tennis

Spring weather means practice and more practice for Captain Gil Christianson and the tennis team, made up of Wally Kirsch, Ray McGowan, Bob Musgjerd, Bob Wass, George Hubacher, and Clair Mellang.

After meeting such tough competition as Waldorf, Ellsworth, Fort Dodge, Austin and Albert Lea, the Trojans hope to make a strong bid for the conference championship.

Golf

Wind, snow, rain and shortage of golf balls have not prevented the 1942 M. C. J. C. golf team from organizing. With Jerry Laughlin as captain, and such crack golfers as Wally Kirsch and Bob Moen, J. C. has a team with plenty of drive and competitive spirit to keep the golf balls flying!

Laughlin, Par, but definitely!

KEEPING 'EM FLYING

The composite college classroom of the nation is being emptied of its young men in order that they may matriculate with Mars. Peace is word of the past and of the future. It is wartime now. No time for false ideals: "Join the Army, Navy, Marines, Air Corps, and free the world." You know General Sherman was right. War is wearing a trim uniform—and a moratorium on personal freedom; saving your tin cans—and seeing your best friend die; getting up an hour earlier—and hating people you've never even seen; licking defense stamps—and making murder not only honorable but indispensable; going without tin, rubber, wool, aluminum, so that the job of destruction may go on more efficiently. War is a brief period of flaming patriotism and ersatz values, and then a half century of cleaning up the debris.

But peace can be hell too—seeing the world drawn helplessly into a tightening, writhing knot of envy and fear and hatred by the Frankenstein of power; torn between abhorrence of ruthless trampling of innocent peoples and fear of being committed to bloodshed—the crime, labor, and despair of war.

Knowing what the war involves for them, millions of Americans are unhesitatingly staking everything on one of the biggest gambles of history. It is now life or death for the nation. Perhaps it will be death; perhaps this time the "happy ending" will not go to the virtuous. Perhaps it will be life, but life on a lower plane. cynical, hardened, coarsened. The boys are not even hoping to hit the jackpot—the world on a permanent peace basis.

What they are doing is leaving their families and friends, schools and books, jobs, and futures, that they may defend them—laying aside their courduroys and gabardines for khaki and navy blue. . . exchanging N. Y. A. for U. S. A. . . saying "farewell" to Ford and Chevrolet and "hello" to Lockheed and Douglas. . . . counting the score in casualties instead of baskets and touchdowns. Americans, Iowans, Mason Cityans are willing to submerge their present good for a future better, a tomorrow when an existence of men without arms will reappear.

Chuck Debban

You'd never guess by looking at sober Chuck that his ambition is to spend his life at the bar. Half-Nelson Debban is rassling chiefly with his preparatory law course these days.

Amy Lou Haight

Amy Lou's haight is hardly worth mentioning, but her every inch under five feet is one of those tiers of laughter you hear about. A distinkly amateur, but versatile, poet, she cheers many a zero hour class with her compositions, and undoubtedly brightened many a corner in her youth.

Bill Blanchard

Chemical analysis proves Bill to be a jewel of a student in the lab, an old stage hand, and a veteran Wig and Masquer-aide.

Velma Hockenberry

Velma, alias "Ackchoo!", spends her spare time closeted with her pipes—the organ at church. She knows a noun Mr. Webster omitted: a "hockenberry" is a deliberately, and usually insultingly, ambiguous remark sandwiched between sneezes.

Marvyl Beck

She's at the Beck and call of any good girl scout. When they passed around the specifications for representative girl, Becky's booty was brains and personality.

Bob Mott

This man-about-school, who carries books only for ballast and a comb only for show, thinks "bon mot" should be spelled "bon Mott.' He has a weigh with him.

Lillian Olson

Lil is J. C.'s executive (spelled executioner when she looses some of that devastating sarcasm). She propped up "You Can't Take It With You", and she has been filed away in most of the cabinets. Biology flunky - - - no flunk.

Lafe Stueland

A notebook artist, Lafe can draw with his right hand tied behind his back; and considers it an honor to be framed. He does his most spectacular flying in government class. And why not - - - after his apprenticeship with the school "angels"?

The Trojan Record

Battle of the Sexes

To use the time honored and worn phrase, "school opened with a bang," and an assembly—a very explosive one, too. It seems that heretofore the boys have held an election each year to select five of their numbers to hold office in the Student Council.

This year something happened—or perhaps a few wires were crossed (or pulled) and surprise! surprise! Two girls were elected for the first time in history.

The story behind the story, if revealed, would expose the tactics used by the boys in previous elections. The idea was to nominate just three boys. When the girls reversed the tables and used the same trick, the boys were indeed angered, to such an extent that they suggested that the girls not be allowed to vote. This raised the question (from a certain 4ft. 11in. redhead), "Do the boys believe in women's suffrage?"

As the year went on, it became more and more evident that a mixed council is compatible, and J. C. suffragettes are campaigning for legislation to make "women for Student Council" a set rule.

Dale Fox nominates Shirley Holmen for the title of "Sweatshirt Girl".

Masonian Assembly— Or Are the Advances Out Yet?'? ?

Due to the united efforts of J. C. and H. S., mostly Lillian Olson and Shirley Holmen—after all they just wrote it, students were given a glimpse of what goes on behind the news. They heard choice bits of gossip and other things from the social editors, while Dale Fox, sports editor, gave the lowdown (and was it low) on the basketball game from a spectator's viewpoint. Bob Mott solved the tire shortage problem by breezing in hours late on roller skates. Interesting sidelights were his ear muffs and raccoon coat.

Masonian staff at last submits the information that the person who kept shouting from various parts of the auditorium, "Is the Advance out yet?" was Dick Mettler.

For photographic record of the assembly see J. C. Masonian, page 18, or if you didn't get an Advance, see Anne Strickland. There are a few copies left—few hundred.

"YOU . . . . YOU"

It's delightful! It's delirious! It's delectable! It's delovely! It's daffy! All of which sums up stage door comments of the 1942 J. C. production, "You Can't Take It With You," presented February 12 at the high school auditorium.

Affectionately referred to as "You . . . . You" by hardworking cast and crew members, it was the last of a series of J. C. stage hits directed by Miss Myrtle Oulman.

"This play," said the audience, which clapped and clapped for curtain calls, "has everything!" There is comedy in all manner and degree from curtain to curtain: mellow from Grandpa (Blanchard) Vanderhof; tolerant in Essie (Kornbaum); refreshing in Penny (Hockenberry); side-splitting in Kolenkov (Schuver), Rheba (Haight), Donald (Lil' Joe), and De Pinna (Johnson).

Ah! and there was Bob and Becky romancin' in the moonlight, Lafe's xylophone jivin', Becky's big dramatic scene, Hunter's easy-goin' ways, G-men Furleigh, Hackett, Haynes, and Mellang; and Joyce Allen's dead-eye performance, Rosemeyer-Peterson Park Avenue high-hatting, and Grunzie's hungry looks. Wow!

This cast, backed by expert stage, prop, costume, and make-up crews, has given Mason City a play to remember.

Synopsis of College Y Week

Monday: Exclusive girls' assembly featuring hula dancers, "inside the lounge," and Elinor Bamford at the piano. Riot ensues when boys crashed auditorium to learn about poetry. Tuesday: Lounge Day—We did, all day. Wednesday: Tea. Usual brand and unadulterated. Thursday: Coke session. Marilyn Fromm stands up under fire. Guess smoke got in her eyes. Friday: Mixer with Collegiates. There was bridge. There was square dancing. There was a scavenger hunt. (Ask Pudge and Lil about those KGLO announcers.) There was dancing to music styled by Wilma.

Annual Edition

School Opens

J. C. opened for the fall term at 7:50 on September 9, with the Dean still in a daze from registration week, the faculty all in good humor, and the sophomores—80 strong—gunning for the 100 gullible prospective freshmen book-buyers.

Clubs Organize

College Y opened its year's program with a tea honoring freshmen. Miss Nancy Halsor, president, announced her cabinet and intentions (good or otherwise). Freshman girls were properly hazed and humbled at the spook initiation. Fashion notes: anklets and pumps were all the rage for a day.

The Collegiates must have been organized, but it's a big secret except for the speech Bob Mott delivered in assembly. However, they did enroll enough members to sponsor the very successful first dance of the season.

Wig and Masque got under way with Lafe Stueland speaking on Orson Welles, and taffy apples.

Football

At least 30 men came out for opening practice, and a quick look at the new coach. (Ed. Bouquet: to the eleven men who stayed the whole season.)

Introducing New Faculty Members

Two new members of the J. C. faculty are Miss Louise Shenaut, librarian, and Coach Chan Welch.

Likeable, lovely, lithe Louise is a welcome addition to our little group, and furthermore, she has lost none of her popularity with her pleasant requests to leave the study hall. Under her regime, the library is almost rivalling Dairyland in popularity.

Cussin' Coach Chan is College Y's candidate for All-American coach. His is the novel way of routing out basketball and football squads. That is by appealing to the feminine half of the J. C. to induce their boy friends to go out for sports. It was a good system; just look at the good teams he got that way. Coach Welch is looking forward to a good season next year, if the war does not interfere too drastically.

K. M. A. elects officers. 'Nuff said.

We hear Miss Oulman calls him Elmer!

There's nothing rusty about Roger. Ask Becky.

Four Pointers

J. C.'s own brain trust, composed of Barbara Reed, Eileen Bryant, Gilda Ebert, Ruth Janssen, and Dorothy Petitt, has been in action since September 9.

Miss Reed is a particularly fine English student, while Miss Bryant reaches her forte in European history. Miss Ebert is a math wizard, and Miss Janssen is the consistently high scorer in economics classes. There is a rumor circulating that Miss Petitt is tutoring Mr. Ashenfelter.

Collegiates Take Steps

It is rumored that a Collegiate Club capacity crowd, consisting of the president, social chairman, and two unofficial members, have decided to take drastic steps to improve the club's notoriously poor attendance.

The said Collegiates, after taking inventory, placed Bob Wallace in charge of a telephone list. "We will not be surprised if various blondes or redheads occasionally show up at meetings," stated one member.

At any rate, the attendance has been boosted to fifteen, according to a survey taken at the Green Mill.

Dum, Dum De Dum

That peculiar noise you've been hearing at intervals throughout the school year is the music of bells—wedding bells.

It seems Dean Rugland started it all last June, closely backed up by Mr. Minor the following Hallowe'en.

Just before spring vacation, we lost one crack dramatic coach, Miss Oulman, to H. S.'s own Clarence Elmer Schneider.

Now the students are taking it up. Remember Vera Dvorak? She's Mrs. Claus, now.

Is J. C. becoming a matrimonial bureau?

We suggest that Mr. Ashenfelter move his first period German class to Dairyland or vice versa.

* * *

J. C. boys are beginning to sit up and take notice of the new librarian. Pretty nice, huh, Tookie?

* * *

J. C. girls get out their knittin' and not for Britain—for the Red Cross.

Betty Peterson still holds the "cut" record.

Junior College Social Season Highlights

M. C. J. C. socialites are congratulating themselves as the highly successful social season for 1941-42 is drawing to a close. Plans for the annual banquet are being made, and this event, ending the season, will take place after final examinations.

The season opened with a bang at the dance after the first football game. Billy Hughes' orchestra was engaged by the Collegiate "Big Businessmen," and according to the financial report, literally millions were made.

At the get-acquainted mixer, sponsored by Collegiates and College Y, October 8, the faculty entered into the spirit of the occasion, and took part in a quiz game. Mrs. Rugland and Mrs. Minor-to-be were guests.

College Y seemed to specialize in juke-box dances this year. Big name bands for only 35¢ was their slogan, and reports indicated that nobody minded if the bands weren't there in person.

Every Daisy Mae had her chance for a date with her Lil' Abner the night of November 14, 'cause that was the night girl asks boy—and the girls paid and paid. In the Dog Patch skit presented in the afternoon, everybody roared at Amy Lou (Mammy Yokum) Haight, and thet thar danged pig. Bob Wallace as Lil' Abner had a wonderful time being pursued by Shirley (Daisy Mae) Holmen. Wig and Masque sponsored both the assembly and the dance.

The annual Thanksgiving Turkey Hop planned and executed by the Student Council was held November 25 at the Surf Ballroom. Cliff Kye's music was featured, and although it was a no corsage affair, a few reactionaries appeared with a blossom or two. Highlight of the evening was the presentation of a deluxe phaeton to the lucky raffle winner, Monk Arroyo. The car formerly was the property of two gentlemen about college, Mr. Richard Bastian and Mr. Charles Kaufman. A turkey was also given away.

Defying the precedent that has been set for the annual Collegiate-College Y formal, Collegiates took the whole burden on their manly shoulders, and put on one swell formal, February 19. Bobby Griggs and his orchestra provided the music.

Fun, wasn't it?

Yesterday
We looked through the portals of the future;
We saw a vision . . . .
Before us lay a broad vista,
And there was peace and security . . .
And a land cradled in freedom, dedicated to happiness.

We surged ahead . . .
But shut are the doors of Yesterday.
A maze of hate, gore, greed obscures our vision.
Through the black of night
A light points out the way—
And a banner that has weathered
The hate of '76 . . .
The gore of Gettysburg . . .
And the greed of 1914 . . .
That banner guides the way.

We shall arm ourselves with knowledge—
We shall be guided by the right . . .
Our God shall be our General.

The vision . . . And the flag—
We can — We must
"Keep 'Em Flying."
